

SYNOPSIS.

Senator John Calhoun is invited to become secretary of state in Tyler's cabinet. He declares that if he accepts Texas and Oregon must be added to the Union. He sends his secretary. Nicholas Trist, to ask the Baroness von Ritz, spy of the British ambassador, Pakenham, to call at his apartments. While searching for the baroness' home, a carriage drives up and Nicholas is invited to enter. The occupant is the baroness, and she asks Nicholas to assist in evading pursuers. Nicholas notes that the baroness has lost a slipper. She gives him the remaining slipper as a pledge that she will tell Calhoun what he wants to know regarding England's intentions toward Mexico. As security Nicholas gives her a trinket he intended for his sweetheart, Elizabeth Churchill. Tyler tells Pakenham that joint occupation of Oregon with England, must cease, that the west has raised the cry of "Fif-ty-four Forty, or Fight." Calhoun becomes secretary of state. He orders Nicholas to Montreal on state business, end the latter plans to be married that night. The baroness says she will try to prevent the marriage. A drunken congressman whom Nicholas asks to assist n the wedding arrangements, sends the baroness' slipper to Elizabeth, by mis-take, and the wedding is declared off. Nicholas finds the baroness in Montreal, she having succeeded, where he failed, in discovering England's intentions regarding Oregon. She tells him that the slipper he had in his possession contained a note from the attache of Texas to British ambassador, saying that if the United States did not annex Texas within 30 days, she would lose both Texas and Oregon. Nicholas meets a naturalist. Von Rittenhofen, who gives him information about Oregon. The baroness and a British warship disappear from Montreal simultaneously. Calhoun engages Von Rittenhofen to make maps of the western country. Calhoun orders Nicholas to head a party of settlers bound for Oregon. Nicholas has an unsatisfactory interview with Elizabeth Calhoun excites the jealousy of Senora Yturrio and thereby secures the signature of the Texas at tache to a treaty of annexation. Nicholas starts for Oregon.

CHAPTER XXV.

Oregon. The spell and the light of each path we If woman be there, there is happiness

Twenty miles a day, week in and week out, we edged westward up the Platte, in heat and dust part of the time, often plagued at night by clouds of mosquitoes. Our men endured the penalties of the journey without comment. I do not recall that I ever heard even the weakest woman complain. Thus at last we reached the South pass of the Rockles, not yet half done our journey, and entered upon that portion of the trail west of the Rockies, which had still two mountain ranges to cross, and which was even more apt to be infested by the hostile Indians. Even when we reached the ragged trading post, Fort Hall, we had still more than 600 miles

By this time our forces had wasted as though under assault of arms. Far back on the trail, many had been forced to leave prized belongings, relics, heirlooms, implements, machinery, all conveniences. The finest of mahogany blistered in the sun, abandoned and unheeded. Our trail might have been followed by discarded implements of agriculture, and by whitened bones as well. Our footsore teams, gaunt and weakened, began to taint and fall. Horses and oxen died in the harness or under the yoke, and were perforce abandoned where they fell. Each pound of superfluous weight was cast away as our motive power thus lessened. Wagons were abandoned, goods were packed on horses, oxen and cows.

We put cows into the yoke now, and used women instead of men on the drivers' seats, and boys who started riding finished afoot.

Gaunt and brown and savage, hungry and grim, ragged, hatless, shoeless, our cavalcade closed up and came the shoulders of the Blue mountains in our diplomacy. and came into the valley of the Walla Walla; and so passed thence down the ward the year before.

Here were some few Americans. At tive pastures. Champoeg, at the little American missions, at Oregon City, and other scatand were halled by them.

was no word obtainable from these of a startling and decisive event. any Canadian column of occupation to | I was on my way on a canoe voy the head waters of the Fraser or the lamette, when all at once I heard the hedge in a western fur-trading post. influenza or a common cold; we brew Columbia to come down to the lower sound of a cannon shot. I turned to The quarters assigned me lay across nothing that is permanent; we are settlements for the purpose of bring- see the cloud of blue smoke still hang- the open space, or what might be just as susceptible to a later invasion second.

of right. Our broken and weakened Jack! cavalcade asked renewal from the soil itself. We ruffled no drum, fluttered dred homes.

ILLUSTRATIONS by MAGNUS G. KETTNER

CHAPTER XXVI.

The Debated Country. The world was sad, the garden was The man, the hermit, sighed-till woman smiled! -Campbell.

Our army of peaceful occupation scattered along the more fertile parts of the land, principally among the valleys. Of course, it should not be forgotten that what was then called Oregon meant all of what now is embraced in Oregon, Washington and Idaho, with part of Wyoming as well. It extended south to the Mexican possessions of California. How far north it was to run, it was my errand here to learn

I settled near the mouth of the Willamette river, near Oregon City, and not far from where the city of Portland later was begun; and builded for myself a little cabin of two rooms, with a connecting roof. This I furnished, as did my neighbors their similar abode, with a table made of blocks, a bed framed from poles, on which lay a rude mattress of husks settled, after all! and straw.

for another wagon train could not kindly host who finds himself with now we lighted the fires of many hun- | the English navy-the same ship | ing figure, which in some way seemed which more than a year before I had seen at anchor off Montreal!

News travels fast in wild countries, destination of the Modeste. She came upon Dr. McLaughlin, the factor at that England had sent a ship to oust us. Then came to myself and certain | was not Indian or half-breed. others at Oregon City messengers from peace-loving Dr. McLaughlin, asking us to join him in a little celemajesty's vessel.

Here at last was news; but it was soon unearthed. The Modeste was but one ship of 15! A fleet of 15 vessels, 400 guns, then lay in Puget sound. The watch-dogs of Great Britain were hewed puncheons, chairs sawed from at our doors. This question of mon-

I pass the story of the banquet at From the eastern states I scarcely Fort Vancouver, because it is uncould now hear in less than a year, pleasant to recite the difficulties of a

Our Men Endured the Penalties of the Journey Without Comment,

on, and so at last came through. Ere start west from the Missouri until the | jarring elements at his board. Pre- kings except at those times when he autumn had yellowed all the foliage following spring. We could only cisely this was the situation of white- is troubled with a cold in his head. back east in gentler climes, we crossed | guess how events were going forward | haired Dr. McLaughlin of Fort Van- It it be not Persius, it was Horace or to whiten with the ripening grain. I them all. As for us Americans, lean cells make a sort of natural tered points, we met them, we hailed grew uneasy, feeling myself only an and brown, with hands hardened by antitoxin and keep it in stock, idler in a land so able to fend for Messengers spread abroad the news itself. I now was much disposed to of the arrival of our wagon train. discuss means of getting back over tunics made our coats, and moccasins nurse, for instance, works with safety Messengers, too, came down from the the long trail to the eastward, to our boots. I have seen some noble in a smallpox hospital, where the very Hudson bay posts to scan our equip- carry the news that Oregon was ours, gentlemen so clad in my day. ment and estimate our numbers. There It was at this time that there occurred It was, as may be supposed, late in changed by vaccination that the small-the northward which had crossed at age up the wide Columbia, not far were all housed, as was the hospitable nated against scarlet fever-the reacthe head of the Peace river or the above the point where it receives its Saskatchewan, or which lay ready at greatest lower tributary, the Wiling to an issue, or making more diffi- ing over the surface of the water. | called the parade ground of Fort Van- | as we were to the invasion that is just cult, this question of the joint occu- slowly there swung into view an couver, flanked by Dr. McLaughlin's over. pancy of Oregon. As a matter of fact ocean-going vessel under steam and four little cannon. ultimately we won that transcen- auxiliary canvas. She made a galtinental race so decidedly that there lant spectacle. But whose ship was among the stumps in the dark, I passed never was admitted to have been a she? I examined her colors anxiously many semi-drunken Indians and yoyenough. I caught the import of her ageurs, to whom special liberty had So we took Oregon by the only law ensign. She flew the British Union been accorded in view of the occasion.

The mild winter wore away, and I

England had won the race by sea! Something of the ship's outline as against the "Bostons." no flag, to take possession of the land. seemed to me familiar. I knew the I was almost at my cabin door at ing's impossible-what would you like But the canvas covers of our wagons set of her short masts, the pitch of the edge of the forest frontage at the to do for us? gave way to permanent roofs. Where her smoke-stacks, the number of her rear of the old post, when I caught Mr. Goodgraft-Endow a few cells couver. It was an incongruous as- Juvenal. sembly in the first place. The officers learned little. Spring came, and still of the British navy attended in the they are so common. Other epidemic Columbia to the valley of the Wil- no word of any land expedition out of splendor of their uniforms, glittering diseases-measles, typhoid, scarlet felamette, 300 miles yet farther, where | Canada. We and the Hudson bay in braid and gold. Even Dr. McLaugh- ver, diphtheria- may get hold on us there were then some slight centers folk still dwelt in peace. The flowers lin made brave display, as was his once and there is an end; it is not of our civilization which had gone for- began to bloom in the wild meads, wont, in his regalia of dark blue cloth usual to have any of them twice. We and the horses fattened on their na- and shining buttons-his noble fea- brew in our blood immunity. The poi-Summer came on. The fields began king him the most lordly figure of its proper antidote; our blood toil, our wardrobes scattered over a so that we are henceforth protected thousand miles of trail, buckskin against the disease. A well-vaccinated

As I made my way home, stumbling all of them now engaged in singing to do one thing for you, but I fear the praises of the "King George" men | it's impossible.

we had known a hundred camp-fires, guns. Yes, she was the Modeste of glimpse, in the dim light, of a hurry- in your favorite prisons!

to be different from the blanket-covered squaws who stalked here and there about the post grounds. She and it took us little time to learn the passed steadily on toward a long and low log cabin, located a short disto anchor above Oregon City, and well | tance beyond the quarters which had below Fort Vancouver. At once, of been assigned to me. I saw her step course, her officers made formal calls up to the door and heard her knock; then there came a flood of light-more Fort Vancouver, and accepted head of light than was usual in the opening the British elements thereabouts. Two door of a frontier cabin. This disweeks passed in rumors and counter played the figure of the night walker, rumors, and a vastly dangerous ten- showing her tall and gaunt and a little tlements, because word was spread to be only one of our American frontier women, being quite sure that she

This emboldened me, on a mere chance-an act whose mental origin I could not have traced-to step up to bration in honor of the arrival of her the door after it had been closed, and myself to knock thereat.

> trifle on its chain. I saw appear at whom I had followed.

She was, as I had believed, old and wrinkled, and her face now, seen archy and the republic was not yet close, was as mysterious, dark and inscrutable as that of any Indian squaw. Her hair fell heavy and gray small and dark as those of a native woman. Yet, as she stood there with the light streaming upon her, I saw something in her face which made me puzzle, ponder and start-and put my foot within the crack of the door,

"Threlka," I said quietly, "tell madam the baroness it is I, Mons. Trist of Washington."

CHAPTER XXVII.

In the Cabin of Madam. Woman must not belong to herself; sha is bound to alien destinies.-Friedrich von

With an exclamation of surprise, the old woman departed from the door. I heard the rustle of a footfall. I could have told in advance what face would now appear outlined in the candle glow-with eyes wide and startled, with lips half parted in query. It was the face of Helena, Baroness von Ritz!

me out?" I said, as though we had parted but yesterday.

In her sheer astonishment, I presume, she let down the fastening chain, and without her invitation I "Mon Dieu!" then her more deliberate exclamation of emotion. "My God!" she sald. She stood, with her hands caught at her throat, staring at me. I laughed and held out a hand.

"Madam baroness," I said, "how kind to us again?'

the world.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

WHERE MAN IS NOT MASTER

Unable to Discover Secret of Avolding That Troublesome Cold in the Head.

Man, says Persius, is a very noble piece of work, and is indeed king of

It is a fact of great interest that tures and long, snow-white hair ma- son of the disease evokes in us air is infective; but her blood was so the night when our somewhat discord- pox cannot affect her. By scarlet feant banqueting party broke up. We ver, again, we are, as it were, vaccifashion of the country, in the scattered | tion of our blood against the disease log buildings which nearly always immunizes us. No such result follows

The Mean Thing.

The Suffragette (smilingly)-Won't you do something to help our good cause along, Mr. Goodcraft?

Mr. Goodcraft-I'd like very much

The Suffragette-T-ut! tut! Noth-

TIGERS IN AGREEMENT WITH POLICE.

udge Wilkinson Asks Investigation of Sensational Report.

Natchez.—Judge Wilkinson opened the March term of the Adams County Circuit Court Wednesday. In his charge to the grand jury, he referred to the recent arrest of 30 men for selling beer and said that he had been informed that there was an agreement in Natchez for the owners of soft drink establishments to be arrested every three months and to pay fines of $50 on each arrest. He charged the grand jury to investigate this matter and to look into the matter of violations of the prohibition laws. The city authorities and Chief Ramsey have no knowledge of any agreement to make arrests of proprietors of soft drink establishments at stated periods and will welcome any investigation on the part of the inquisitors.

STATE'S COTTON ACREAGE

President Hightower Says It Will Be No Change.

Jackson.-According to President G. R. Hightower of the Mississippi division of the Farmers' Union, there will be little or no change in the cotton acreage in sion existed in all the American set. stooped; so that, after all, I took her this state during the current crop year.

"Of course, in some counties and communities there will be considerable increase," says President Hightower, "but taken as a whole, the acreage will be practically the same as last year."

President Hightower explains the phenomenal increase in fertilizer sales, which are much in excess of expectations I heard women's voices within, and of manufacturers, on the ground that the news not wholly to my liking which I as I knocked the door opened just a fine open weather during the winter season permitted the farmers to do a great the crack the face of the woman deal of hauling, and they did not decide on the quantity of fertilizers to be used until the near approach of the planting across her forehead, and her eyes were Important Convention Will Be Held in New York, June 7, 8 and 9.

OIL MILL MEN TO MEET.

Jackson.-Several oil mill managers in the state, will attend the annual convention of the Interstate Cotton Seed Crushers' Association to be held in New York on June 7, 8 and 9.

The fact that the boll weevil has invaded this industry, which is one of the most important in Mississippi, will render the New York convention one of exceptional interest. The mills in this state are seriously considering the question of crushing peanuts, and that theme will also be brought up for discussion.

PAPER FROM SLABS.

If Experiments Are Successful, Paper

Mill Will Be Built.

with local capitalists, that has contem- | treated me for ringworm, I saw no plated establishing a paper mill at this change and consulted a specialist and port, will make a test to determine he claimed I had psoriasis. I continwhether paper can be successfully made | ued treatments under him for about "Eh blen! madam, why do you bar from pine slabs cut by the sawmills. six months until I saw scales break-A cargo of pine slabs will be shortly ing out all over my body save my tured in the paper mills. If the experi- hair began to fall. I then changed ment is satisfactory, a large amount of doctors to no avail. I went to two capital will be immediately invested in a hospitals and each wanted to make a stepped within. I heard her startled paper mill here and employment fur- study of the case and seemed unable nished to hundreds of laborers. Fifteen to cure it or assure me of a cure. I thousand dollars is estimated as being tried several patent medicines and the cost of the test.

Lumbermen Will Picnic.

Hattiesburg.—At a meeting of the diglad I am! Come, has not fate been | rectors of the Mississippi Pine Association the regular meeting of the associa-I pushed shut the door behind me. tion was set to be held in Hattiesburg. Still without a word, she stepped Tuesday, April 11. As is their custom, deeper into the room and stood look. the Order of Hoo-Hoos will meet in the ing at me, her hands clasped now evening and a class of kittens be admitloosely and awkwardly, as though she | ted to the mysteries of the order. A were a country girl surprised, and not | banquet, followed by a ball, will be tenthe Baroness Helena von Ritz, toast | dered at the Hotel Hattiesburg. A numor talk of more than one capital of ber of prominent members of the order from a distance will be present, among them J. H. Baird, of Nashville, Tenn., who holds the office of supreme scrivena

May Reimburse Owners.

Natchez.—Either at the special session or at the regular session of congress in December, Congressman William A. Dickson of Centreville will introduce a bill to protect the Natchez front, provide other improvements and to reimbursa the owners on the eastern bank of the Mississippi river between Vicksburg and Baton Rouge for the damage done their lands by the building of the Louisians levee system.

Negro Lynched Near Rockport.

Rockport.-An unknown negro was lynched near here by a mob composed of about fifty men, after he had shot and killed Daniel Beasley, a white farmer, who lived near this place. The negro made his escape after the shooting, but was captured later by a posse and was being hurried to the town jail here, when his captors were overtaken by the mob, which forced them to give up the risoner.

Merchant Murdered.

Ackerman,-Pleaman Bruce, a merchant of Ackerman, was shot from ambush and possibly fatally wounded Thursday, A negro, known as Parine, is charged with the shooting and is being searched for by several posses. If captured it is not improbable that he will be lynched.

Sell Big Plantation.

Indianola, - The Sledge Lakewood plantation, comprising 1,501 acres, near here, was sold to Illinois people for the neat sum of $75,000. The woodland. which was half of the farm, brought $25 per acre, while the cleared land brought $75 per acre.

Baker Made Field Agent.

Natchez.-James W. Miller, president of the Mississippi Retail Merchants' Association, announces that he has appointed Col. E. B Baker as field agent for the association.

$3.50 RECIPE CURES WEAK KIDNEYS, FREE

RELIEVES URINARY AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, BACKACHE, STRAIN-ING, SWELLING, ETC.

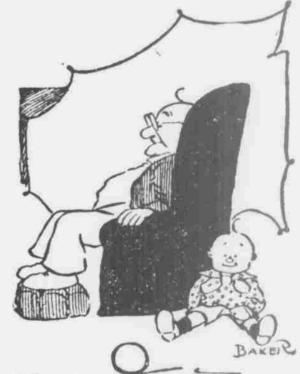

Stops Pain in the Bladder, Kidneys and Back.

Wouldn't it be nice within a week or so to begin to say goodbye forever to the scalding, dribbling, straining, or too frequent passage of urine; the forehead and the back-of-the-head aches: the stitches and pains in the back; the growing muscle weakness; spots before the eyes; yellow skin; sluggish bowels; swollen eyelids or ankles; leg cramps; unnatural short breath; sleeplessness and the despondency?

I have a recipe for these troubles that you can depend on, and if you want to make a QUICK RECOVERY, you ought to write and get a copy of it. Many a doctor would charge you $3.50 just for writing this prescription, but I have it and will be glad to send it to you entirely free. Just drop me a line like this; Dr. A. E. Robinson, K-261 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send it by return mail in a plain envelope. As you will see when you get it, this recipe contains only pure, harmless remedies, but it has great healing and pain-conquering power.

It will quickly show its power once you use it, so I think you had better see what it is without delay. I will send you a copy free-you can use it and cure yourrelf at home.

PA'S ANSWER.

"What is an indeterminate sentence,

"Matrimony, my son."

SCALES ALL OVER HER BODY

"About three years ago I was affected by white scales on my knees Pascagoula.—The English syndicate, and elbows. I consulted a doctor who shipped to Norway and there manufac- face. My scalp was affected, and my was finally advised by a friend who has used Cuticura on her children since their birth, to purchase the Cuticura Remedies. I purchased a cake of Soap, the Ointment and the Resolvent. After the first application the itching was allayed.

"I am still using the Soap and Ointment and now feel that none other is good enough for my skin. The psoriasis has disappeared and I everywhere feel better. My hands were so disfigured before using the Cuticura Remedies that I had to wear gloves all the time. Now my body and hands are looking fine." (Signed) Miss Sara Burnett, 2135 Fitzwater St., Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 30, 1910.

Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., sole props., 135 Columbus Ave., Boston, for free book on affections of the skin and scalp.

Somewhat Satirical.

A whist enthusiast wrote and pubfished a book on the game and sent a copy to a famous player for his opinion of it. In about a week the book was returned to him, with the following letter:

"My Dear Sir .- Your favor of the 10th instant, accompanied by your book, was duly received. I have read it very carefully. It seems to be a very good game, but I don't think it is as good a game as whist!"

Severe Critic.

Alice-I like Tom immensely and he's very much the gentleman; but he does like to talk about himself! Grace-Yes, dear, your knight hath a thousand I's.-Puck.

TO DRIVE OUT MALARIA

AND BUILD UP THE SYSTEM

Take the Old Standard GROVES TASTELESS
CHILL TONIC. You know what you are taking.
The formula is plainly printed on every bottle, showing it is simply Outsine and Iron in a tasteshowing it is simply Quinine and Iron in a taste-less form. The Quinine drives out the malaria and the Iron builds up the system. Sold by all lealers for 30 years. Frice 60 cents.

What is passing in the heart of another rarely escapes the observation of one who is a strict anatomist of his own.-Shelley.

Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Guin and Mullen is Nature's great remedy— Cures Coughs, Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough and all throat and lung troubles. At druggists, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

What we are doing speaks with greater force than what we are saying .- Royston.

Garfield Tea purifies the blood, eradirates rheumatism, gout and other diseases. Go to sleep without supper, but rise without debt .- Talmud.